Rosemarie Latham Hosts Town Hall Focused on Labor Issues in District 29

Deltona, FL — On Saturday, Rosemarie Latham, candidate for Florida House District 29, held a town hall to address critical labor issues facing the community. Latham spoke on worker rights, fair wages, healthcare access, and protections for union workers. The open forum allowed attendees to ask questions, share concerns, and engage directly with the candidate, who is committed to improving conditions for working families.

“Our district’s workers deserve strong representation and policies that respect their contributions,” said Latham. “I’m here to fight for their rights and fair treatment.”

The town hall underscored Latham’s commitment to amplifying labor voices and building policies that create a fair, thriving workplace environment. The event welcomed workers, union representatives, and community members who discussed labor priorities and the path forward for Florida’s workforce.
